REFLECTIONS

1980

Lake Worth Christian School

Hurricane David roared up the coast during the first weeks of school, bringing with it an experience never known to students here. It was the first hurricane to hit in 12 years.

David brought tons of excitement that never really subsided over the 1979-80 school year.

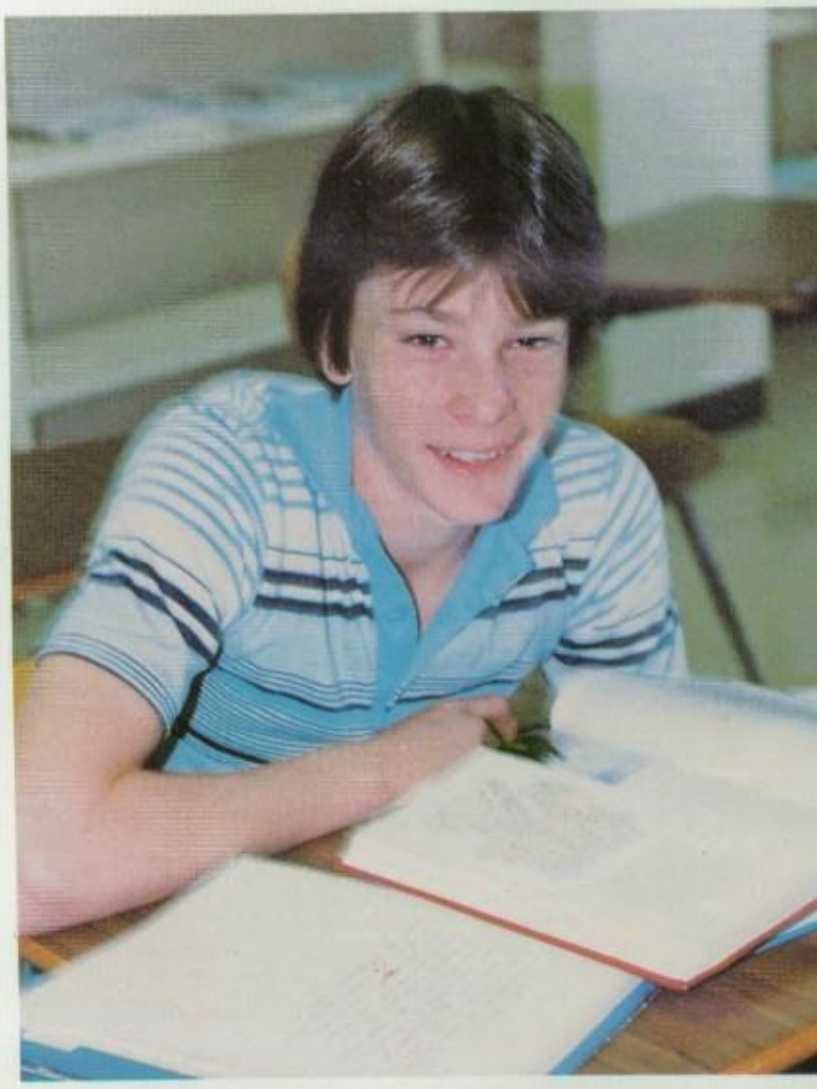
VOLUME VIII

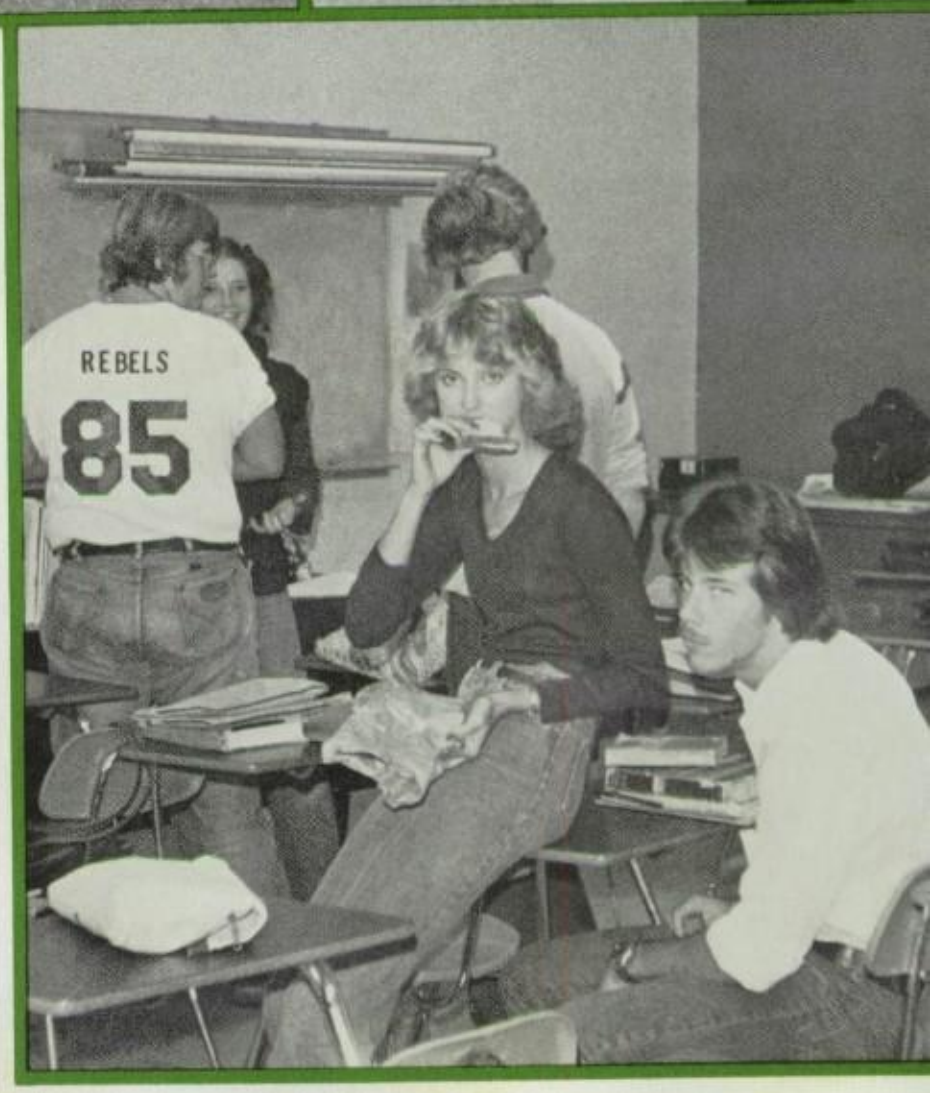
Storm Passes As . . .

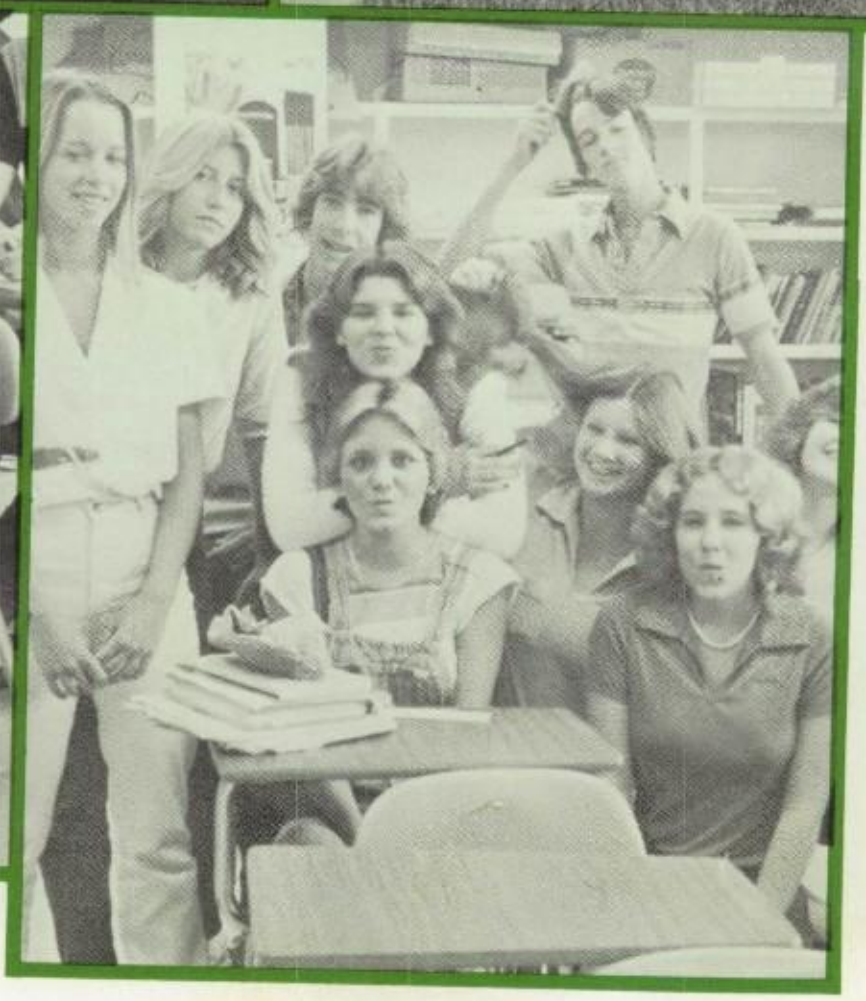


. . . Activity Begins

The storm blew in a whole schedule of events: both planned and unplanned. Students organized a dynamic pep club, planned class activities and fund raising events . . . and studied when they had time. (Pic. 1) Denise Combs thinks journalism is very interesting. (Pic. 2) The P.E. class plays football. (Pic. 3) Lamar Galloway and John Barendsen sing for Honor Society.

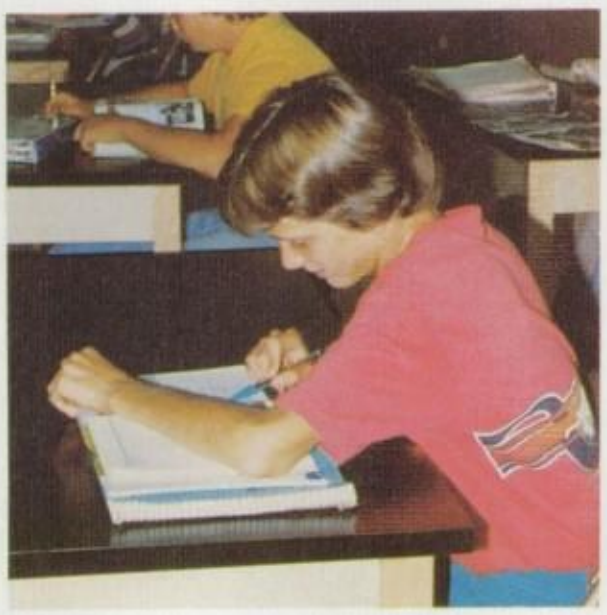
We're Moving With New Ideas . . .

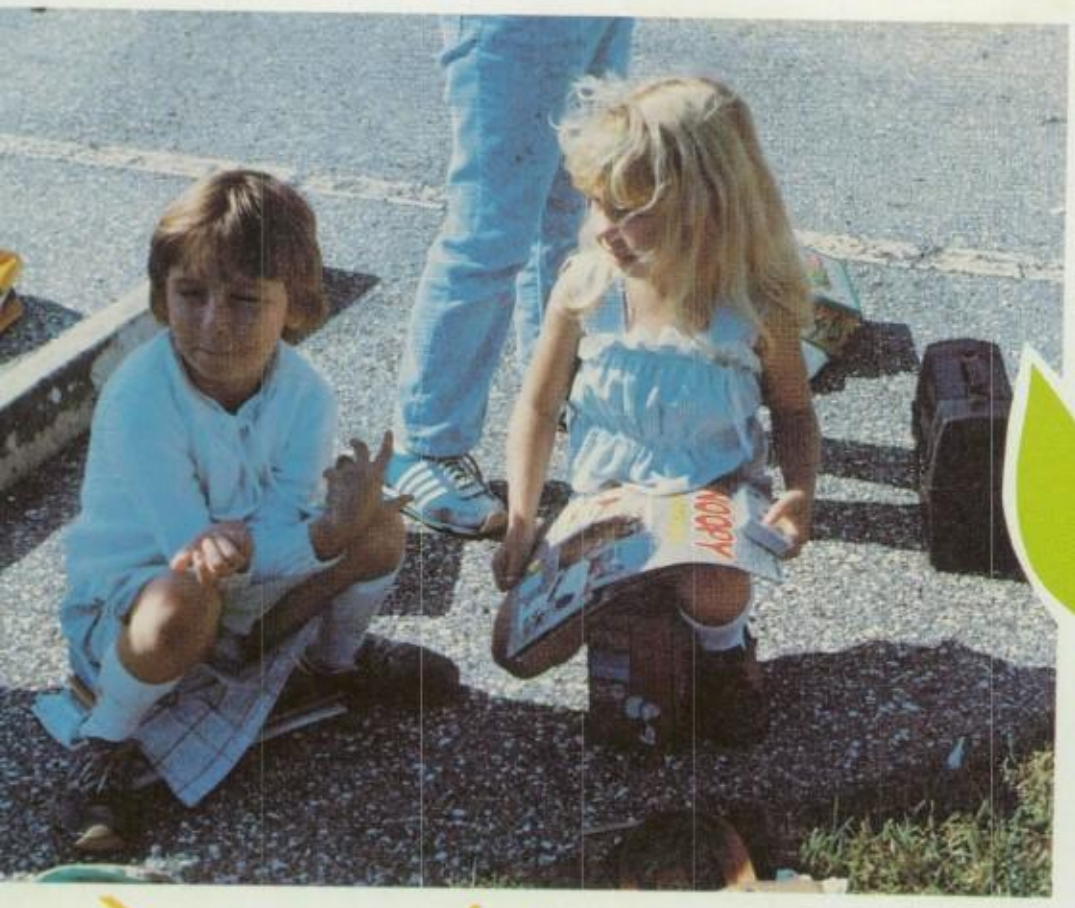


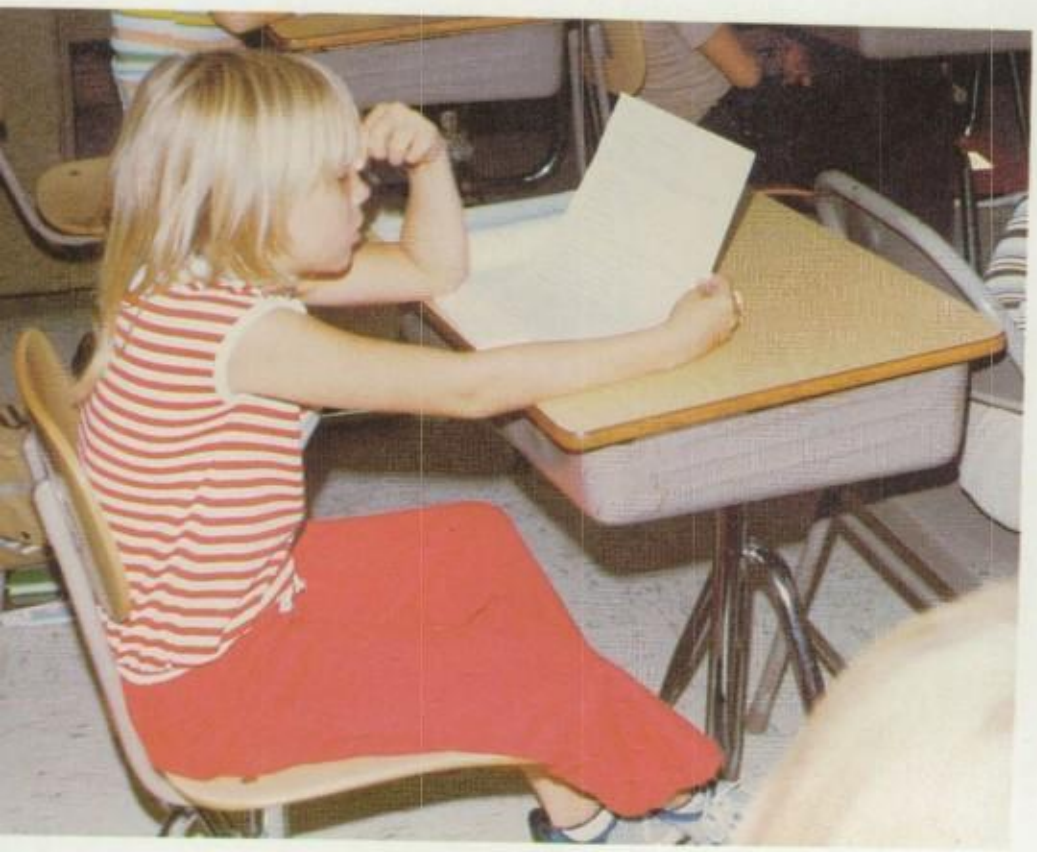


With the beginning of classes: old friends renewed their relationships and new friends were made. Together we weathered the barrage of tests, quizzes, term papers and class assignments . . . Together we accepted most of the challenges . . . Together we are victorious.

David's Wind Starts Activities Flying

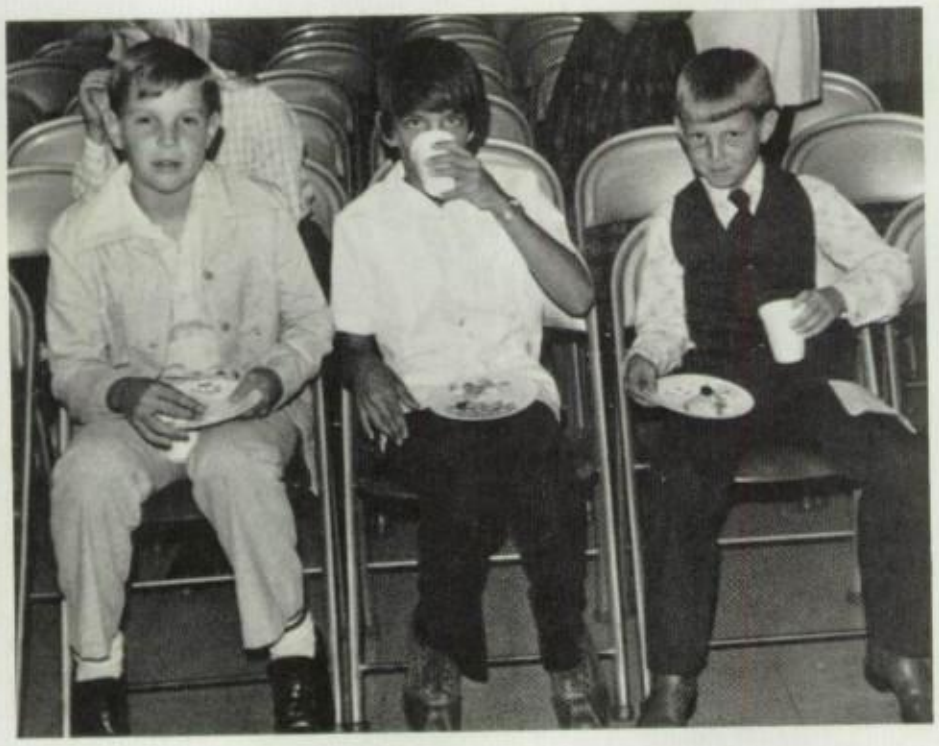


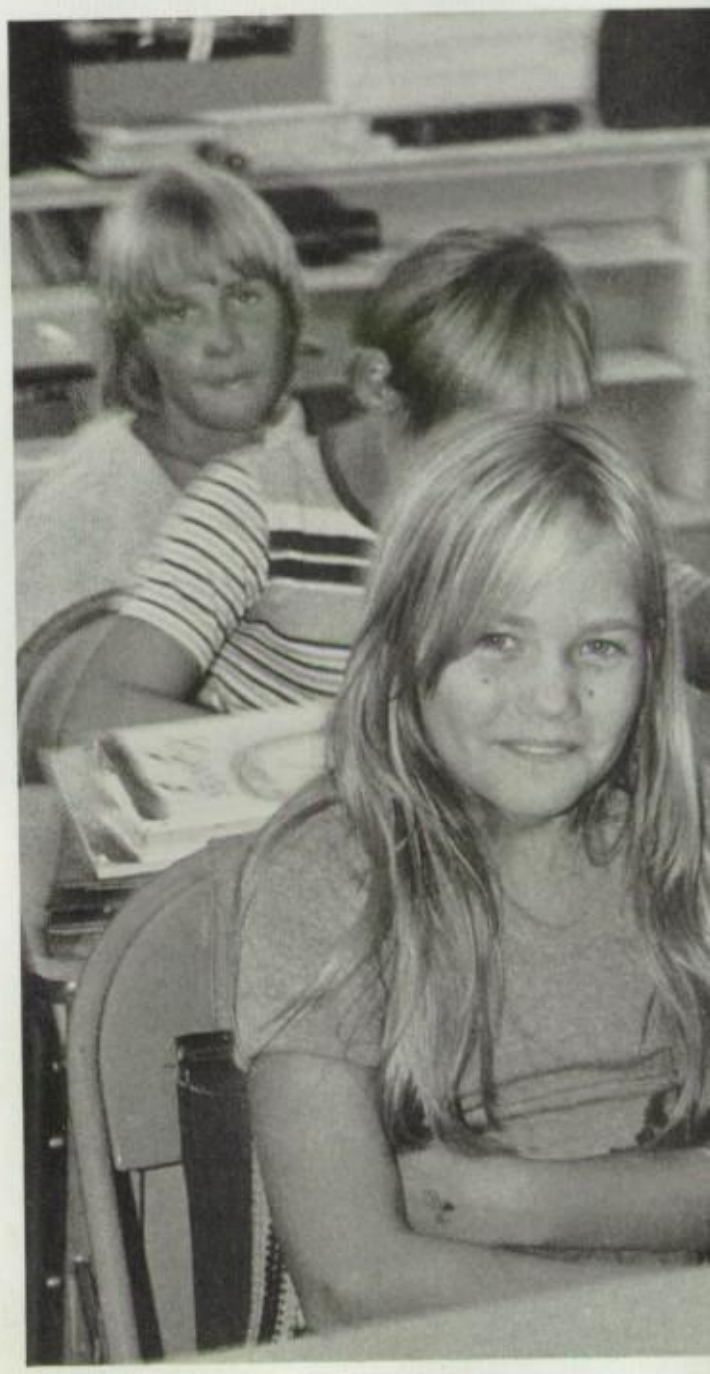


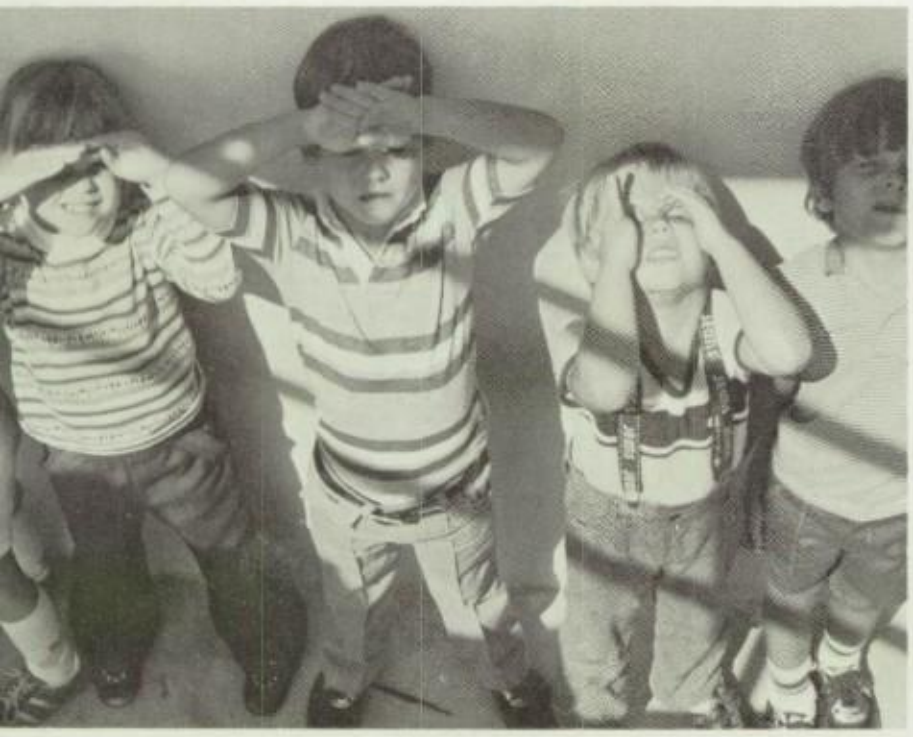


The 1979-80 school season started off with a hurricane, but that didn't seem to dampen the spirits at the elementary campus. In no time at all, everything was back to normal with studies and numerous playground activities.

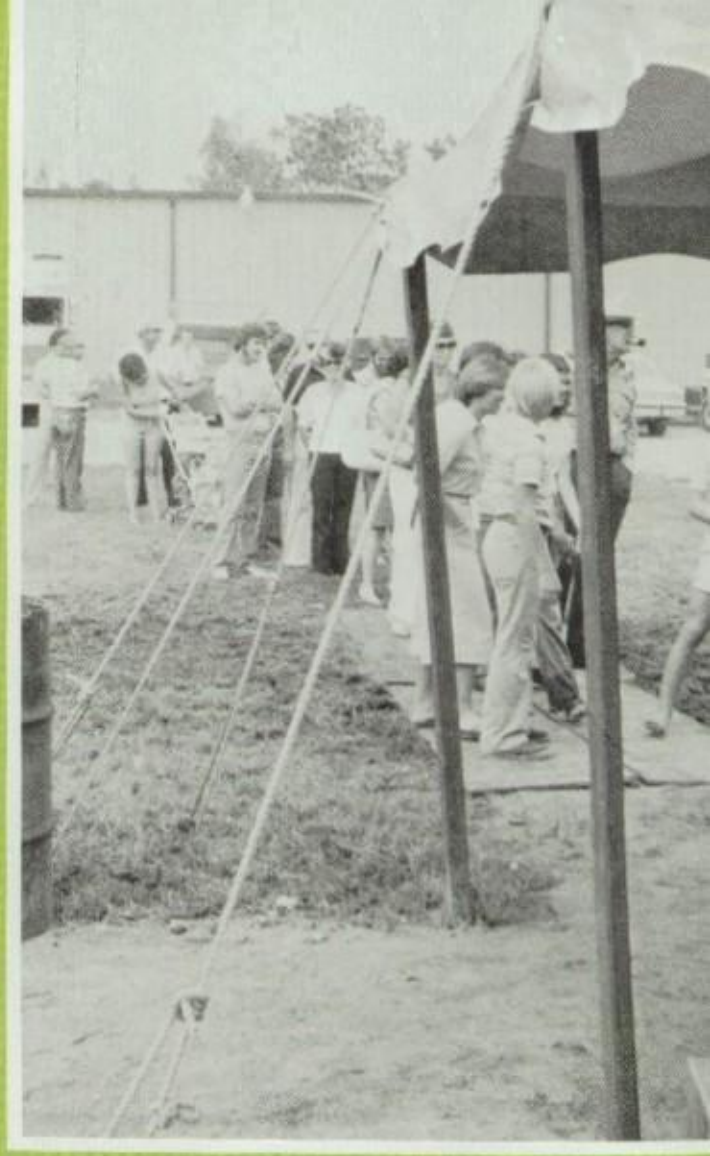
Elementary Stirs Up A Hectic Year







No Dampened Spirits At The Pig Roast



Over $60,000 was made at the first annual Pig Roast sponsored by a parents' athletic booster organization. The money will be used to build a gymnasium. The day was highlighted by the music of the bluegrass bands, (1) as well as, fishing in the pond. (2) riding ponies, (3) and eating roast pork. Parents and faculty member sliced pork and dished out potato salad while Pep Club members directed the traffic jam and sold concessions. A tremendous downpour did not dampen the spirits of the crowd as they jammed in under the huge circus tent and listened to the music.

The Seniors worked hard for three years getting money ahead for a class trip, grad nite and graduation. The soup supper was a major event netting about $700.00 for the fund and selling plants added to that amount.

(pic. 1) Everyone took turns doing the dishes. (pic. 2) Patti Rushing and Alice Lin fix the salad bar, (pic. 3) while Mike Van Eldik sweeps the floor.

3

Seniors had an exhausting, but fantastic time at Grad Nite '80. Arriving at Disney World at 7 p.m., the class spent the evening with thousands of other seniors viewing the attractions.

The class trip took the 17 seniors to Tampa, where they spent the day ducking raindrops at Busch Gardens. The pictures below show various seniors at Grad Nite and other occasions. Photos four through seven captured in sequence the undying efforts of the class to fit sixteen bodies in Mike Van Eldik's Volkswagon..

Juniors anticipated the arrival of brand new class rings before Christmas vacation, but because of the shortage of gold they had to wait until the early part of the new year.

The class was busy making lots of money to put on the annual Junior-Senior Banquet. Some money-making projects included the sale of hot dogs and chili dogs for hot lunch, a car wash, and several movie nights. All these projects proved to be very profitable.

The Freshman year in high-school is one of new challenges; making new friends, getting used to a new daily routine, and studying hard. Students take on Physical Science, as well as Algebra I during their Freshman year.

The class is one of the largest in the history of the school. This years' class added to their bank account by selling turkey sandwiches and tacos for hot lunch.

The senior high choir has had a very busy year. The choir concert was held separately from the band's concert. The concert, entitled "Praise Ye the Lord", was a huge success. One of the activities the choir participated in was an all day choir clinic held at Westminster Academy in Miami. The choir left at 5:00 a.m. to arrive in Miami by 9:00. They spent most of the day rehearsing for the concert with the other schools involved, but managed to find time to swim and play basketball as well.

Fourth row: Doug Lovelace, Paul Hansrote, Todd Machiela, John Barendsen, Jeff Borst, Ken Schneider, , Brian Burke, Jeff Dykstra.

In addition to it's hometown concerts, the band went to Bradenton this year to take part in the CSI Band Festival on May 9. There, along with bands from several other South Florida Christian schools, they gave both independent and combined concerts.

John Barendsen, at left, participated in the solo competition. In a highly individualized contest, he was chosen "superior" out of a field of five saxophonists.

The next day, the band piled into the bus for the short trip to Adventure Island in Tampa. Adventure Island is a new waterpark affiliated with Busch Gardens. Band members said even though the park was crowded, they enjoyed the day of fun and relaxation.

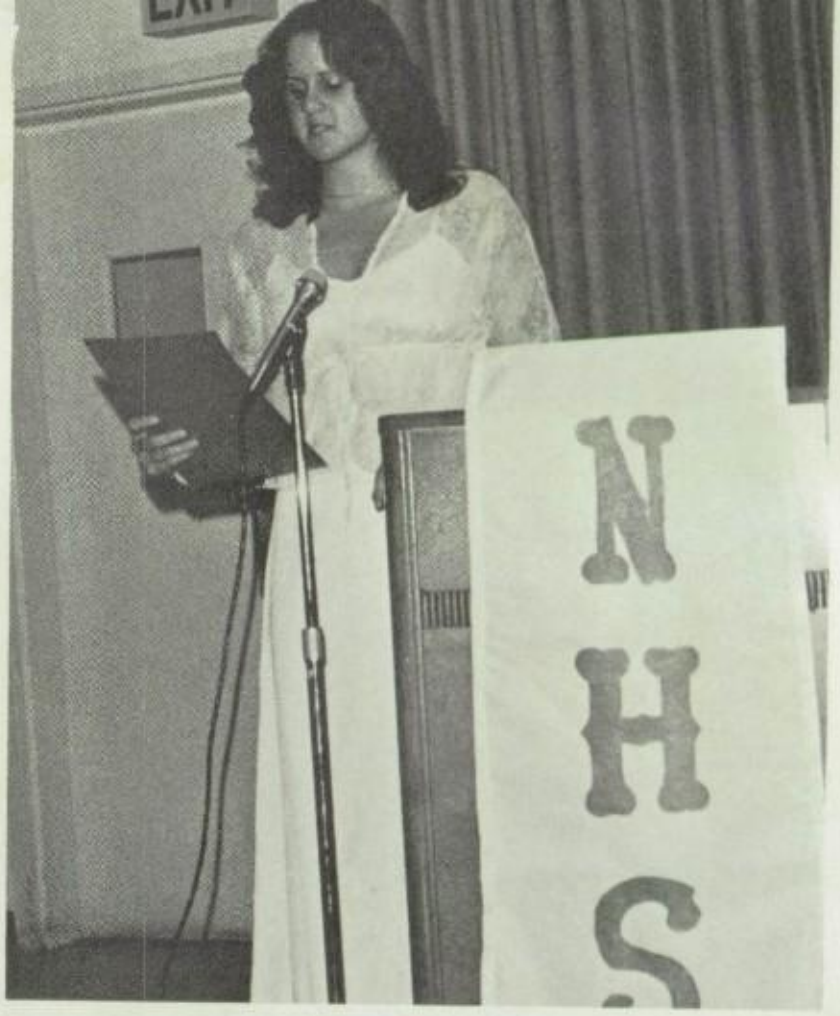
Students did not seem to have any trouble keeping themselves entertained at the Student Council's unique Christmas party, which included grilled hamburgers and hot dogs, along with a few zany games.

Two spirit weeks kept the spirit flowing as the classes competed with each other. Throughout the weeks, cowboys, little kids, kids with crazy socks and clowns walked the halls.

National Honor Society

Ten Students Inducted



It was a proud night for several parents as they watched their children accept certificates and gold pins during the first annual National Honor Society Induction.

The students were selected based on character, service, leadership and scholarship. If the students fail to live up the requirements they will be put on probation.

The Society will attend local cultural events.

The 1979-80 Reflections staff spent seven months putting together a book that will long be remembered by the students of LWC.

Designing pages to fit the hurricane theme and cropping pictures took up most staff members time. Taking photographs helped capture the memories of this year. Staff members pictured add final touches to layouts, while Mr. Zylstra (Pic 1) gives Susan Vancil advice on selecting pictures for layout.

JUNIOR-SENIOR BANQUET

"Walkin' In The Sand"

Hard Work And Anticipation Ends As the Banquet Begins

Shells, Beach sand, and a treasure chest filled with pennies welcomed all those who attended the 1980 Junior-Senior Banquet held April 18 at the Challenger Club.

The theme, "Walkin' In The Sand", was carried out through statues of pelicans, fish nets, and shells.

Many girls wore leis and all drank punch served under a grass hut.

A meal of roast beef, beans, and a baked potato was served prior to the entertainment provided by Hampton, a local rock band.

Interact is sponsored by the Lake Worth Rotary Club. Though this is the first year of their existance, they got off to a good start. Each member was allowed to attend a Rotary lunch as a special guest, as well as other events such as Slave Day.

1979-80 was the first year an energetic Pep Club was organized. It's success can be measured by the numerous bright yellow pep shirts worn by all the club's members. The hubbub of home games was spurred on by a jamm'in pep band, and the frenzied cheerleaders. The Varsity cheerleaders donned new uniforms, and introduced many new spirit-filled cheers. This was also the first year for a J.V. squad which took third place in area-wide competition.

SPIRIT WEEK

Cowboys And Clowns Make The Week Unique

Seniors won the first Spirit Week competition which consisted of Color Day, Dress-up Day, 50's Day, Clown Day, and Cowboy Day. Painted faces and exaggerated noses made Clown Day fun while hats, sombreros and holsters made Cowboy Day uniquely different.

SPIRIT WEEK II

Classes Do Their Own Thing

The second Spirit Week, in February, comprised of Kiddie Day, Color Day, Dress-up Day, Crazy Hat and Sock Day, and Do Your Own Thing Day, psyched up the fans for the tournament games.

Kiddie Day saw short dresses and bloomers while Do Your Own Thing Day found the Freshmen wearing blue jeans, the Sophomores wearing tennis shoes, Juniors wearing cords, and Seniors wearing t-shirts.

The Seniors remained victorious by obtaining the most points from the various competitions during the week.

The soccer season got off to a good start this year when the Defenders won four out of seven games. However, what seemed like a promising season soon turned to heartbreak, with the final record at 5-10. They rallied in the District tournaments behind the promise of Lamar Galloway's father, who offered them a free steak dinner if they won two District games. After beating Nova and Highlands Christian (teams which the Defenders had never defeated before), they had the dinner at the Galloway residence.

Fifteen girls went out for basketball this year, so the squad had to be split into an A team and a B team. Coach Dozeman said the girls always played their best, even when our sixth-graders had to go up against eighth-graders. He said the girls would be prepared to play on the high school team.

GIRLS VOLLEYBALL

Two Teams Gain Third Place

The Volleyball season went very well, according to Coach Laurel Baker. "It was exciting to see skill levels and team unity progress," she stated.

The team was very excited to be able to play a three-way play-off for second place. The "A" team achieved third place by winning three games out of eight. The "B" team took a third place by winning two of seven games played.

Defeating Gulfstream School in overtime to receive the first place trophy was the high point of the girls soccer team's first season.

At the league track and field meet, the Lake Worth Christian girls track team was first out of six teams.

The girls Cross Country team did very well for their first season and it, along with track and soccer, plan to continue next year.

Coach De Groot said that the girls on the three teams had a lot of spirit and enthusiasm and he is very proud of them all.

A new second grade learning center has added a new twist to learning.

The new learning center has various games for the students including: spell-a-word, spin-a-word and several more.

Mrs. Oosterhouse said, "The only way the students may use the center is if they finish their work early." The class also learned I Cor. 13 for Valentine's Day.

The Seventh graders have had a very busy academic year. One of their various projects was an in-depth science report. The class this year had a journalism-literature class, in which one assignment was collecting ten different poems written by ten different authors, analyzing each poem line by line, and explaining the poetic rhythm of each. This year has been a challenging and rewarding one for the class.

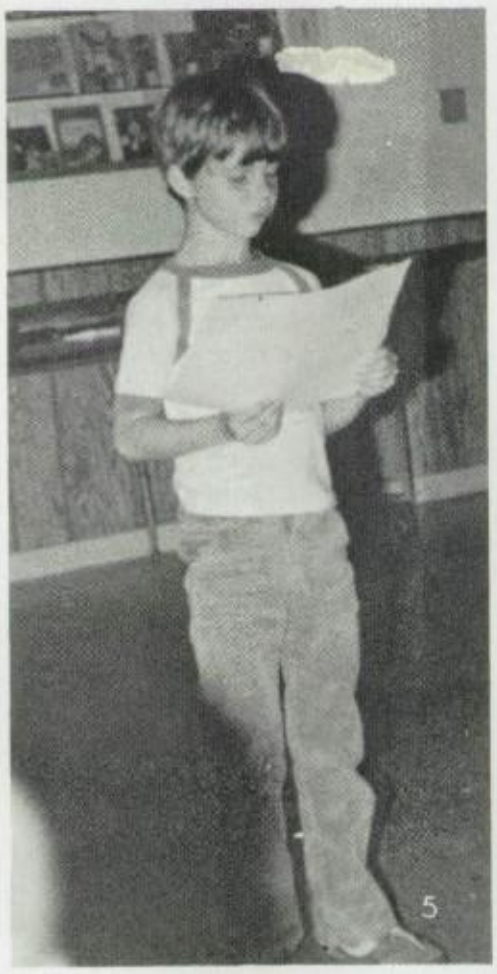
Fine Arts Festival

Elementary And Jr. High Display Many Talents

Numerous students from all grade levels participated in this year's Fine Arts Festival. Many ribbons were awarded in the music, forensics and art categories.

1. First Graders J.B. Love, Marty Holman, Shane Martin sing "Wedding Banquet." 2. Brian Persenaire, Matthew Burgess and Craig Williams sing "Fishers Of Men." 3. Clifford Noetzel reads a poem. 4. Melissa Talsma, second grade, points at her stained glass window. 5. Michael Lee reads the story he wrote himself. 6. Robin Kibben and Shiela Scott sing a duet.



Interpretive Reading And Vocal Music Dominates Fine Arts Program

1. Todd Persenaire and Greg Mausz, Kindergarten, point to their art entries. 2. Shannon Jones performs a piano solo. 3. Lisa Bender, Janice Vernor, Sheri Halter, Tonya Love, and Cath erine Indianos, all in fifth grade, perform "The Tree Song." 4. The Kindergarten class listens patiently while others perform. 5. Third Grader Chad Lee reads a poem for the forensics competition. 6. Yvonne Vander Kooi, fourth grade, sings a solo.

GOD'S GIFTS

The Elementary's Christmas Special

Grades K-5 performed a musical package presenting the Gifts of Christmas. These gifts include the Father's gift which was the Son; the Son's gift which is salvation and our gifts which include our love, our praise and our hearts.

THE MUSIC·MACHINE™

UNIQUE MUSICAL TEACHES ABOUT GIFTS OF THE SPIRIT

The Elementary grades spent several months perfecting the unique musical, "The Music Machine."

The story tells of two children's journey into mythical "Agapeland" where they meet a conductor, (Robby Galloway). The conductor, through using the music machine, teaches the children (Clifford Noetzel and Kelly Clase) about the fruits of the spirit.

(Pic. 1) Kelly Clase, Robby Galloway and Clifford Noetzel pose in front of the music machine. (Pic. 2) Clifford Noetzel sings song entitled "Peace." (Pic. 3) Stephen Hubertz, as Herbert the Snail, teaches everyone to have patience.

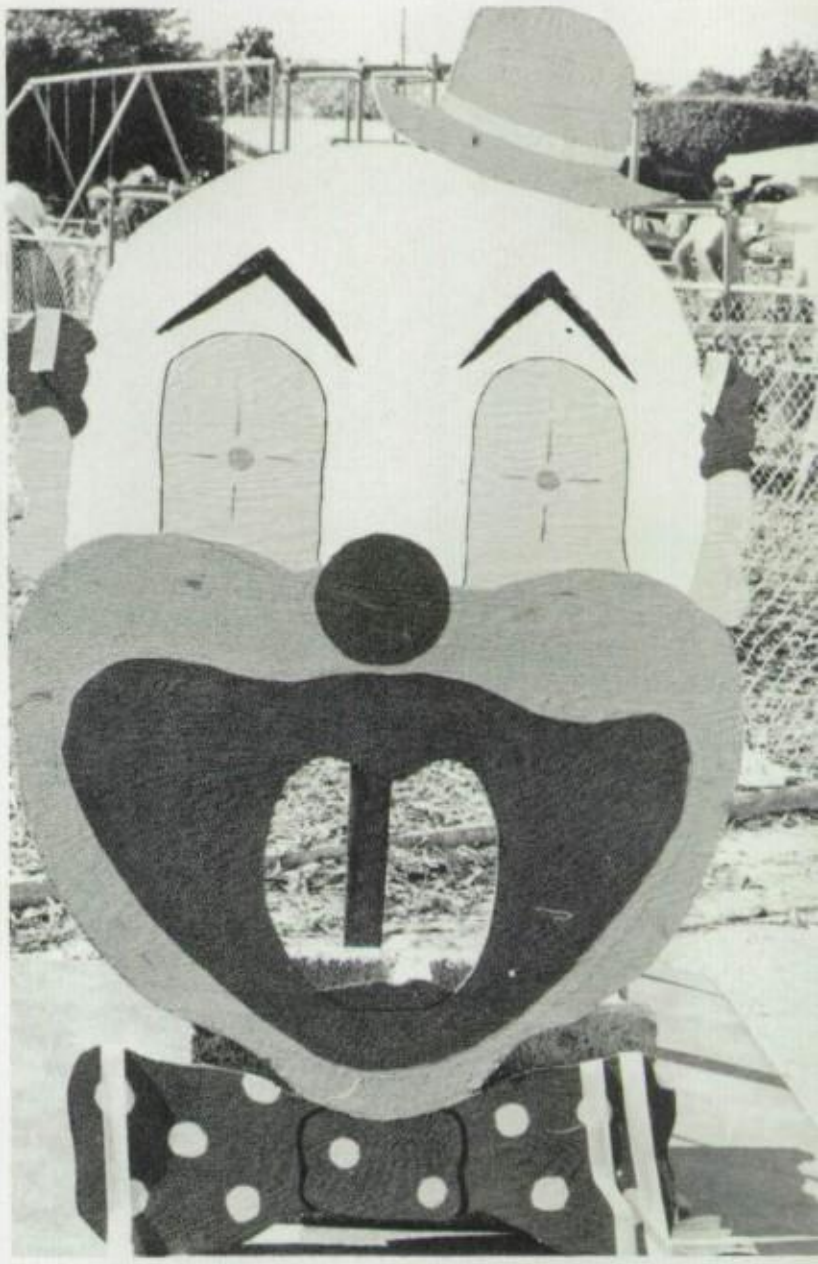
Team Work Makes Fun Day Successful



Young and old worked and played together to make this year's Fun Day successful. $8,000 was raised for the Guild. The day was highlighted by the auction while the all-day musical entertainment helped pass time. The Chicken Bar-B-Que provided good food for all.

The games were enjoyed by kids and grown-ups alike. A free-throw contest early in the afternoon offered a chance for all ages to show off their basketball shooting skill.

Pep Club members ran an information booth which was appreciated by all (Pic. 1). The "chefs" patiently wait for the chicken to get done (Pic. 2).
